

The University of Otago Centre for Theology and Public Issues and St Paul's Cathedral, Dunedin invite you to a public debate:

If you were Prime Minister would you sell New Zealand's assets?

FOR SALE BY OWNER
0800-NZ-PUBLIC

The Government is planning the partial sale of some state-owned assets, and expects to raise $5-7bn in the process. Is selling off our assets a smart move? Will New Zealanders be better off in the long-run?

Join us for an informed, provocative debate on the issues, with four distinguished witnesses presenting their evidence to an equally distinguished panel.

WITNESSES

Dr Geoff BERTRAM (Institute of Policy Studies, Victoria University of Wellington)

Gillian BREMNER (CEO, Presbyterian Support Otago)

Stuart McLAUCHLAN (Vice President, Institute of Directors in New Zealand)

Prof Robert PATMAN (Department of Politics, University of Otago)

PANEL

Jacqui DEAN MP (National Party MP for Waitaki)

Assoc Prof Paul HANSEN (Department of Economics, University of Otago)

Hon Pete HODGSON (former Cabinet minister and ex-Labour MP for Dunedin North)

Dene MacKENZIE (Business and Political Editor, Otago Daily Times)

Chris TROTTER (Political commentator and editor of Political Review)

Metiria TUREI MP (Green Party co-leader)

Tuesday 21 February 2012 | 5.15pm – 7.15pm
St Paul's Cathedral | The Octagon | Dunedin

Hosted by the University of Otago Centre for Theology and Public Issues
www.otago.ac.nz/ctpi | Email ctpinz@otago.ac.nz | Tel 03 479 5358